

Sunday, July 24 (Don't forget to carry your Gate Pass to enter the Natural and Cultural Gardens to come to the Museum!!)

noon-19:00	Registration (Entrance Hall)
17:15-19:00	Welcome Drinks (Entrance Hall)

Monday, July 25

Shuttle Bus Services Leaving Hankyū Expo Park Hotel at: 8 a.m., 8:35 a.m. Leaving Senri Hankyū Hotel at: 8 a.m., 8:35 a.m.
	Seminar Room 1	Seminar Room 2	Seminar Room 3	Seminar Room 4	Seminar Room 5	Seminar Room 6	Seminar Room 7
8:15-9:00	Registration Entrance Hall until 11:50 a.m. For registrations after 11:50 a.m., go to the Organizing Committee Office (located in the Auditorium Lobby on 2F)
9:00-9:15	Welcome: SUDO Ken'ichi, Director-General (National Museum of Ethnology, Osaka, Japan) Announcements: KIKUSAWA Ritsuko (Director, 20th International Conference on Historical Linguistics)
9:15-10:15	Plenary Address (Auditorium) YOSHIDA Kazuhiko (Kyoto University) The Mirage of Apparent Morphological Correspondence: A Case from Indo-European Chair: KIKUSAWA Ritsuko
<15>
	GENERAL SESSION Grammaticalization Chair: Hamans, C.	WORKSHOP 13 Toward Greater Objectivity in Historical Linguistics	WORKSHOP 1 Exaptation	WORKSHOP 5 Syntactic Reconstruction	GENERAL SESSION Germanic Languages Chair: Nathan, G.	WORKSHOP 7 The Diachrony of Referential Null Arguments	WORKSHOP 2 Drift and Long-term Morphosyntactic Change
10:30-11:00	1 NOSE, M. Grammaticalization of temporal expressions in Amele: A diachronic account	WICHMANN, S. A comparison of two lexicostatical approaches: Cognacy scores vs. the Levenshtein Distance	NORDE, M. & VAN DE VELDE, F. Introduction	BARDDAL, J. & EYTHÖRSSON, T. Reconstructing grammatical relations	GOTO, M.H. English V-ing and language contact	LURAGHI, S. & HAUG, D. Introduction	ANDERSEN, H. Drift: Geological, genetic, linguistic
11:00-11:30	2 KOO, H-J. & RHEE, S. An emerging paradigm of sentence-final particles of discontent: A grammaticalization perspective	GREENHILL, S. Levenshtein Distances fail to accurately identify language relationships	NORDE, M. & VAN DE VELDE, F. Introduction	ROBERTS, I. & LONGOBARDI, G. The Parametric Comparison Method and the Celto-Semitic puzzle	WANNISCH, T. Should and Ought in the parsed corpus of Early English correspondence	ECKHOFF, H.M. & MEYER, R. Conditions on null subjects in Old Church Slavonic: a contrastive view	REINTGES, C. Long-term drift towards analyticity
<25>	Coffee Break (Auditorium Lobby)
11:55-12:25	3 KANG, A. Grammaticalization of the plural marker -tul in Korean	HAMMARSTRÖM H Falsifiability in historical linguistics	SMITH, J.C. Keynote: Toward a typology of refunctionalization	HOOK, P.E. Syntactic diatopy as a window on syntactic diachrony: A case study from Indo-Aryan	OSAWA F. Unaccusativity revisited: Unaccusativity in the history of English	JOSEPH, B.D. On the undoing of the null subject parameter diachronically: Evidence from Greek	ALDRIDGE, E. Ergative to accusative drift and word order change in Austronesian languages
12:25-12:55	4 MACDONALD D Grammaticalization of Korean -tul	LUCAS, C., CULE, M. & MATHIESON, I. Beyond 'eyeballing': Towards an objective assessment of areal distribution in WALS	SMITH, J.C. Keynote: Toward a typology of refunctionalization	WALKDEN, G. The correspondence problem in syntactic reconstruction	ELENBAAS, M. The grammaticalized status of English light verbs	FAARLUND, J.T. The nature of Pro and the acquisition of subjects
<60>	Lunch Break (Lunch Area A: Regular meals only, Lunch Area B: Regular and special meals)

13:55-14:55	Plenary Address (Auditorium) Frantisek LICHTENBERK (University of Auckland, New Zealand) The Rise and Demise of Possessive Classifiers in Austronesian Chair: Bill PALMER
<10>
	WORKSHOP 14 Re-Examining Tree-Based Models of Evolution	WORKSHOP 13 Toward Greater Objectivity in Historical Linguistics (Cont.)	WORKSHOP 1 Exaptation (Cont.)	WORKSHOP 5 Syntactic Reconstruction (Cont.)	GENERAL SESSION Germanic Languages (Cont.) Chair Wannisch, T.	WORKSHOP 7 The Diachrony of Referential Null Arguments (Cont.)	WORKSHOP 2 Drift and Long-term Morphosyntactic Change (Cont.)
15:05-15:35	5 PHAN, J. Muong is not a subgroup: A case of non-cladistical grouping	PROKIC, J. & CYSOUW, M. Automatic detection of patterns of sound changes	PERRIDON, H.C.B. Vicissitudes of a suffix: Changing functions of PIE *-e/on- in Germanic	DISCUSSION		HAUG, D. Syntactic conditions on null arguments in IE Bible translations	DANIELS, D. Drift as discourse frequency: From medial clause to final clause in New Guinea
15:35-16:05	6 SUZUKI, H. The historical development of Lamdo Tibetan: A case study on Tibetan dialectology	RATCLIFFE, R. Competing reconstructions and competing classifications in the Afroasiatic domain: How probability and statistics can contribute to a solution	LOS, B. Recycling "junk": A case for exaptation as a response to breakdown	HUGGARD, M. On reconstructing PIE *kwi/*kwo-	MATSUMOTO, N. A discovery procedure in cases of ongoing semantic change: The case of the go-un Ved sequence	HELTOFT, L. Zero expression of valency bound arguments in Old and Middle Danish	DAVIDSON, J. Implications of relic variant maintenance for linguistic drift theory: The case of Insular Catalan dialects
<25>	Coffee Break (Auditorium Lobby)
16:30-17:00	7 WANG, P.-Y. Language relationship revisited: A case study from Ping-hua, China	DISCUSSION	VAN DE VELDE, F. Exaptation in Germanic verbal inflection: Rescuing morphology in times of system breakdown	LAVIDAS, N. & KULIKOV, L. Reconstructing passive constructions for a language without passive morphology: Evidence from Early Vedic and Greek for Proto-Indo-European reconstruction	HAUGAN, J. On the relation between syntax and information structure: Scrambling in Old Icelandic	FRELLESVIG, B., HORN, S.W. & RUSSELL, K. Null arguments in Pre-modern Japanese	DRINKA, B. The perfects of Europe: Evidence for the Charlemagne Sprachbund
		GENERAL SESSION Statistics Chair: Greenhill, S.
17:00-17:30	8 GRANT, A. On misusing dissimilarity: Errors from false positives and false negatives in computer-driven cladistic exercises	PAPKE, J., ARISTAR, A. & MUFWENE, S. The Herodotos project: Determining the rate of language loss in the past		LASH, E.J.F. Copular clauses: from Pre-Irish to Old Irish	WINTERS, M. & NATHAN, G. Prediction and language change	STRONSKI, K. Referential null subjects and objects in Early New Indo-Aryan	PERRIDON, H.C.B. The emergence of pronominal determining possessive constructions in Germanic
17:30-18:00	9 SIDWELL, P. Sub-branching or convergence? Monophyletic versus paraphyletic groupings in Austroasiatic	BASCIANO, B. & ARCODIA, G.F. Measuring the morphological productivity of two Chinese suffixes	WILLIS, D. Exaptation and degrammaticalisation within an acquisition-based model of abductive reanalysis			LURAGHI, S. Null objects in Greek: From Homer to the New Testament
Shuttle Bus Services Leaving the Conference Venue at: 6:15 p.m., 6:50 p.m.

Tuesday, July 26

Shuttle Bus Services Leaving Hankyū Expo Park Hotel at: 7:30 a.m., 8:05 a.m. Leaving Senri Hankyū Hotel at: 7:30 a.m., 8:05 a.m.
	Seminar Room 1	Seminar Room 2	Seminar Room 3	Seminar Room 4	Seminar Room 5	Seminar Room 6	Seminar Room 7
8:30-9:30	Plenary Address (Auditorium) Willem F.H. Adelaar, W.F.H. (Leiden University Centre for Linguistics) Searching for Unexpected Genetic Links between the Languages of South America Chair: CAMPBELL Lyle
<10>
	WORKSHOP 19 Mesoamerican Historical Linguistics	GENERAL SESSION Sinitic Languages Chair: Chang, C-C.	WORKSHOP 1 Exaptation (Cont.)	WORKSHOP 5 Syntactic Reconstruction (Cont.)	GENERAL SESSION Germanic Languages (Cont.) Chair: Palvianen, S.	WORKSHOP 7 The Diachrony of Referential Null Arguments (Cont.)	WORKSHOP 2 Drift and Long-term Morphosyntactic Change (Cont.)
9:40-10:10	21 YOSHIDA, S. Reterritorialization of Yucatec Maya grammar		NARROG, H. Exaptation in Japanese	LUJAN, E.R. Reconstructing semantic roles: Proto-Indo-European *-bhi as a case study	EYTHÖRSSON, T., DEWEY, T.K. & ARNETT, C. The semantics of oblique subjects in Early Germanic	VAN GELDEREN, E. & WILLIE, M. The possible diachrony of null objects in Athabascan	VAN KEMENADE, A. & BIBERAUER, T. Predictable and unpredictable changes: The development of the English subject-domain
10:10-10:40	22 YASUGI, Y. What happened during the transition from Classical to Modern Mayan languages?	KATAOKA, S. Emergence and constraints: The progressive suffix -gan in Cantonese	VAN DER WAL, J. & MANIACKY, J. Gradualness in function shift and reanalysis: Grammaticalization of clefts in Lingala and Kikongo areas	KOPOTEV, M. Lost and found: Russian and Finnish elliptical clauses reconsidered	THONY, L. On the fate of duals in *-ō in Germanic	KISS, K.E. The development of object Pro Drop in Hungarian: A case of exaptation	DISCUSSION WILLIS, D. & SITARIDOU, I.
<25>	Coffee Break (Auditorium Lobby)
							GENERAL SESSION Romance Languages Chair: Elvira, J.
11:05-11:35	23 HULL, K.M. Animacy marking and semantic generalization in Ch'orti' Mayan numeral classifiers	BASCIANO, B. On the diachronic development of the Chinese root da	JOSEPH, B.D. Being exacting about exapting: An exaptation omnibus	BARDDAL, J. & SMITHERMAN, T. The reconstruction of oblique subject constructions in PIE: The Issue of cognateness	HIRATA, R. Preposition stranding in colloquial Welsh: Its synchronic and diachronic implications	LAVIDAS, N. Null vs. cognate objects: What aspect can tell us about their diachrony	MATASOVIĆ, R. Latin paenitet me, miseret me, pudet me and active clause alignment in Proto-Indo-European
11:35-12:05	24 BROADWELL, G.A. Inferring Colonial Valley Zapotec phonology from orthography	ARCODIA, G.F. 'Against' typological constraints on morphologization in isolating languages: Evidence from Sinitic	DISCUSSION	DISCUSSION	LAAKE, S. The definite article in Old Norse and Modern Norwegian	DISCUSSION	MAYER, E. & DELICADO-CANTERO, M. Changes and continuity in Spanish prepositional differential object marking.
12:05-12:35	25 JUSTESON, J. Zapotec grammatical constructions in the preclassic inscriptions of Monte Alban		DISCUSSION	KIKUSAWA, R. Combining pattern comparison with lexical and functional reconstruction: Identifying cognate structures in Austronesian comparative syntax
<60>	Lunch Break (Lunch Area A: Regular meals only, Lunch Area B: Regular and special meals)

		WORKSHOP 19 Mesoamerican Historical Linguistics (Cont.)	GENERAL SESSION Sinitic Languages (Cont.) Chair: Basciano, B.	GENERAL SESSION Morphology Chair: Hamans, C.	WORKSHOP 5 Syntactic Reconstruction (Cont.)	GENERAL SESSION Germanic Languages (Cont.) Chair: Haugan, J.	GENERAL SESSION Negation van der Auwera, J.	GENERAL SESSION Sound Change Chair: Hamann, S.
13:35-14:05	26				ASATIANI R. & IVANISHVILI M. Reconstructed simple syntactic constructions: The South Caucasian languages	CLOUTIER, R. The uses of *haitan in the Elder Futhark: North Germanic innovation or Germanic dialect variation?	BREMS, L. Have/Be no need : The interaction between negation and modality	LAKER, S. Problematic candidates of Brittonic influence on English phonology
14:05-14:35	27	MATSUKAWA K. Correlation between historical tone shifts and vowel quality in Triqui languages	JI, M. An evolutionary model of Chinese historical lexis	RUTKOWSKA, H. Morphological spelling in the early editions of the Kalender of Shepherdes	MC CONVELL, P. & BOWERN, C. Reconstructing the syntax of complex verb constructions in Ngumpin-Yapa languages (Northern Australia)	PALVIAINEN S. Reconstructing lost prefixes in Old Norse	LEE, J.W. Much ado about a lot: A corpus study of much as a negative polarity item
		GENERAL SESSION Chair: Hull, K.M.
14:35-15:05	28	GUILLAUME, A. The grammaticalization of "associated motion" in Bolivian Amazonian languages	LEE, H.-C. Language change: A case of new compounding with Mandarin you 'have'	WOOD, J. Juxtaposed pseudo-partitives and the loss of morphological case	GERNER, M. Reconstructing a focus pattern in the Yi group	WALKDEN, G. The development of Old English 'exclamative' hwaet	KLEMOLA, J. Negative concord in traditional dialects of England	KO, S. The Mongolic vowel shift revisited
<25>	Coffee Break (Auditorium Lobby)
			GENERAL SESSION Sinitic Languages (Cont.) Chair: Arcodia, G.F.	GENERAL SESSION Morphology Chair: Reid, L.A.	WORKSHOP 5 Syntactic Reconstruction	GENERAL SESSION Germanic Languages (Cont.) Chair: Grant, A.		GENERAL SESSION Sound Change (Cont.) Chair: Laker, S.
15:30-16:00	29	HANNSS, K. The development of an inclusive/exclusive split and its reflex in the verbal system: Evidence from Uchumataqu		HAMANS, C. Bidirectional change: Some examples from derivational morphology	PAT-EL, N. On structurally shared innovations: The diachrony of adverbial subordination in Semitic	SANADA K. A closer look at subjectification in the grammaticalization of an English modal	IDIATOV, D. Explaining clause-final negation in northern sub-Saharan Africa	DING, P.S. On historical phonetics: Non-language specific and unidirectional sound changes
16:00-16:30	30	JENSEN, E.S. Er from case marker to marker of subjective evaluation	JUGE, M. Analogy as a source of suppletion	CAPPELLARO, C. Morphological and semantic continuity of Latin ILLE and IPSE in Italo-Romance third person pronouns	GILDEA, S. & HAUDE, K. The origins of the Movima inverse alignment: Internal reconstruction	NUYTS, J. Re-autonomizing modals in Dutch		HAMANN S. Sound change as a change in perception grammar: Evidence from Standard Southern British English /u/-fronting
<5>
16:35-17:05	31		HOEKSEMA, J. Immediate future readings of universal quantification constructions	WEBER, T. Motivations for the emergence and decline of differential agent marking	DISCUSSION	BYLOO, P. & NUYTS, J. Competing modal auxiliaries in Dutch		KANG, H. The synchronic aspect of a historical change in Korean vowel harmony
Shuttle Bus Services Leaving the Conference Venue at: 5:20 p.m., 5:55 p.m.

Wednesday, July 27

Shuttle Bus Services Leaving Hankyū Expo Park Hotel at: 7:30 a.m., 8:05 p.m. Leaving Senri Hankyū Hotel at: 7:30 a.m., 8:05 p.m.
	Seminar Room 2	Seminar Room 3	Seminar Room 4	Seminar Room 5	Seminar Room 6	Seminar Room 7
8:30-9:30	Plenary Address (Auditorium) Suzanne ROMAINE (University of Oxford, UK) Grammaticalization in Socio-historical Perspective: Social Conduits and Vectors of Diffusion of Linguistic Change Chair: Sarah ROBERTS
<10>
	GENERAL SESSION Contact Chair: Osugi, Y.	WORKSHOP 10 Stability and Borrowability of Interrogative Pronominals	WORKSHOP 20 Ibero-Romance Historical Linguistics	GENERAL SESSION Sinitic Languages (Cont.) Chair: Sagart, L.	GENERAL SESSION Languages in Africa Chair: Campbell, L.	WORKSHOP 11 The Diachrony of TAM System as a Paradigm
9:40-10:10	41 PAKENDORF, B. Epistemic constructions in Even and Sakha (Yakut): Contact-induced grammaticalization or independent innovations?	HACKSTEIN, O. & CYSOUW, M. The stability of interrogatives: A case of Indo-European exceptionalism?	ELVIRA, J. Stylistic fronting in Old Spanish texts	LAU, C.F. Development of dental stops from affricates among Southeastern Chinese dialects	KIESLING, R. Numeral classifiers in Benue-Congo and their historical significance in a wider (Niger-Congo) perspective	WATANABE, K. A holistic and typological approach to tense, aspect, and modality systems
10:10-10:40	42 SEIFART, F. The principle of morphosyntactic subsystem integrity in language contact	RATCLIFFE, R. Replacement of interrogative pronouns in Arabic dialects: Motives and mechanisms	PEREZ SALDANYA, M. & HUALDE, J.I. Recursive processes in the evolution of concessive subordinators: Diachronic data from Spanish,	WANG, H. Emergence of the tone system in the Sanjiazhi dialect of Manchu	DEVOS, M. & VAN DER WAL, J. What lexical semantics tells us about grammaticalisation paths of 'go'-verbs in Bantu	BOZZONE, C. The grammaticalization of Ancient Greek aorist and its effects on the Greek verbal system
<25>	Coffee Break (Auditorium Lobby)
	GENERAL SESSION Discourse/Media/Honorifics Chair: Ohoiri, T.
11:05-11:35	43 KATAOKA, K. Synchronic and diachronic variation of spatial expressions in Japanese wayfinding discourse	RATLIFF, M. Interrogative pronouns in isolating languages	MELIS, C. & FLORES, M. Spanish verbs of 'liking': Construals, structures, and pathways of change	STEED, W. Issues for reconstructing tone sandhi using data from Lishui Wu Chinese	VAN DE VELDE, M. The origin and evolution of unusual agreement patterns with proper name controllers in the Bantu languages	KWOK, B.-C., KATAOKA, S., & LIN, H. The role of language contact in the development of an aspectual system: The case of Lianjiang Yue-Chinese
11:35-12:05	44 PREMAWARDHENA, N.C. & JAYASUNDARA, A. The impact of media on language change	FISCHER, S.D. Borrowing of interrogative pronouns in American Sign Language	BOUZOUITA, M. Future constructions in Ibero-Romance	TONG, C.L. The historical development of [ʈ] in the dialects of Xinhui County	GROLLEMUND, R. Phylogenetic classification of North Western Bantu languages	BUBENIK, V.M. Development of aspect and tense in Central Semitic languages
			GENERAL SESSION Romance Languages Chair: Smith, J.C.		GENERAL SESSION Imperatives Chair: Reid, L.A.
12:05-12:35	45 MATSUDA, K. How Japanese change their use of honorifics during their lifetime	IDIATOV, D. The instability of Eastern Mayan interrogative pronominals: Interrogative pronominals as complex constructions	RODRIGUEZ SOMOLINOS, A. The evolution of the epistemic modaliser voirement in French	BIERKANDT, L., WITZLACK-MAKAREVICH, A., ZAKHARKO, T. & BICKEL, B. Diachronic trends in the alignment of the Kiranti agreement system	VAN OLMEN, D. The many developments of the imperative of 'saying'	BROSIG, B. Aspect and evidentiality in Mongolian over time
	For Excursion 1 through 3 (Buses leave by 13:00): Meet in the Entrance Hall at 12:45, then proceed to the Bus. Lunch will be provided on the bus.		All others: Lunch box pickup in Lunch Area B (both regular and special meals)
				For Excursion 4 Meet in the Entrance Hall at 13:30.	Shuttle Bus Services Leaving the Conference Venue at: 1 p.m., 2 p.m.
	Shuttle Bus Services Leaving the Conference Venue at: 5:00 p.m.

Thursday, July 28

Shuttle Bus Services Leaving Hankyū Expo Park Hotel at: 7:30 a.m., 8:05 a.m. Leaving Senri Hankyū Hotel at: 7:30 a.m., 8:05 a.m.
	Seminar Room 1	Seminar Room 2	Seminar Room 3	Seminar Room 4	Seminar Room 5	Seminar Room 6	Seminar Room 7	Auditorium
8:30-9:30	Plenary Address / Workshop on Sign Language Keynote Speech (Auditorium) Ted SUPALLA (University of Rochester, USA) The Role of Historical Research in Building a Model of Sign Language Typology and Variation Chair: OSUGI Yutaka
<10>	WORKSHOP 9 Person Forms across Time and Space	WORKSHOP 4 Usage-Based Approaches	WORKSHOP 8 The Diachrony of Negation	WORKSHOP 20 Ibero-Romance Historical Linguistics (Cont.)	WORKSHOP 12 Computational Historical Linguistics	WORKSHOP 6 The Nominalization Cycle	WORKSHOP 11 The Diachrony of TAM System as a Paradigm (Cont.)	WORKSHOP 15 Historical Sign Language Database Architecture and Historical Linguistics Methodology
9:40-10:10	51 HSIEH, F. The pragmatic function of first person pronouns in Kavalan	INTRODUCTION	VAN DER AUWERA, J. & VAN ALSENOY, L. On the diachrony of double clausal negation and negative concord	HUALDE, J.I. Word-boundary effects and phonemic split in Judeo-Spanish	GREENHILL, S. Beyond lexicostatistics: Exorcising the ghost of glottochronology past	KAUFMAN, D. Wh- agreement and case syncretism	LUCAS, S. Changing aspects: An investigation of the aspectual situation in Greek future formations in the 1st and 6th centuries AD	KANDA, K. & OSUGI, Y. Database of historical changes in Japanese Signs from 1901 to 2011
10:10-10:40	52 TANANGKINGSING M. Pronouns in discourse in Philippine languages	DE SMET, H. Does innovation need reanalysis?	GERASIMOV, D. Emergence of negative concord in Paraguayan Guarani	CORPUS/PROJECT PRESENTATION PERÉZ SALDANYA, M. On the 'Grammar of Old Catalan': Some remarkable syntactic changes in the history of Catalan	ATKINSON, Q. Language evolution in space and time	ALDRIDGE, E. Archaic Chinese object relatives as nominalizations	TOYOTA, J. Reorganisation of the concept of time: An anthropological perspective on future tense	OSUGI, Y. A diachronic and synchronic account of gender and kinship marking in Japanese Sign Language
<25>	Coffee Break (Auditorium Lobby)
11:05-11:35	53 OLSTAD, J. English literature's influence on referential density in Korean (but not Japanese)	HELTOFT, L. Grammaticalisation between usage and structure: The role of paradigmatic organization	HANSEN, M.-B.M. On the evolution of temporal n-words in Medieval French	KAWASAKI, Y. Medieval Spanish prepositional variation delante mi ~ delante de mi	DEDIU, D. Computational approaches to the stability of linguistic features	YANAGIDA Y. Genitive subjects and nominalization in Japanese: An historical perspective	VON PRINCE, K. How a borrowed modal marker changes the Daakaka modal system	WOODWARD, J. Historical/comparative studies of Southeast Asian Sign Languages: Issues, results, endangerment and preservation
11:35-12:05	54 KRATOCHVIL, F., HOLTON, G., KLAMER, M., SCHAPPER, A. & FEDDEN, S. Pronominal paradigm stability in Alor-Pantar languages (non-Austronesian, SE Indonesia)	KRACH, K. & SCHÖSLER, L. Reanalysis and grammaticalisation of constructions	LUCAS, C. The diachronic pragmatics of English nontemporal 'never'	SIVERSEN, A. Variation of infinitive markers in Old Portuguese and Old Spanish: Motivations and connections	MORAN, S. & CYSOUW, M. Phonemic inventories as a phylogenetic characteristic	YAP, F.H. From nominalizations to subjective 'stand-alone' constructions	GERGEL, R. Structure-based methods in investigating change of temporal/modal elements	SASAKI, D. A lexical comparison of East Asian Sign Languages: A historical perspective
12:05-12:35	55 FUJII, Y. Referential shifting between first and second person pronouns in Japanese	HAYASE, N. The synchronic and diachronic motivation for the use of dangling participles in English	WALLAGE P. Quantitative evidence for the role of information structure in the Middle English Jespersen Cycle	EIDE, K.G. Postverbal subjects of unaccusative verbs in the history of Portuguese	BOUCHARD-CÔTÉ, A. Automated reconstruction of protolanguages using probabilistic models of sound change	SHIBATANI M. Some fundamental issues in nominalization	SANDELL, R. The formal and functional interplay of reduplicated verbal categories in Vedic Sanskrit	DISCUSSION
<60>	Lunch Break (Lunch Area A: Regular meals only, Lunch Area B: Regular and special meals)
	WORKSHOP 9 Person Forms across Time and Space (Cont.)	WORKSHOP 4 Usage-Based Approaches (Cont.)	WORKSHOP 8 The Diachrony of Negation (Cont.)	WORKSHOP 20 Ibero-Romance Historical Linguistics (Cont.)	WORKSHOP 12 Computational Historical Linguistics (Cont.)	WORKSHOP 6 The Nominalization Cycle (Cont.)	WORKSHOP 11 The Diachrony of TAM System as a Paradigm (Cont.)
13:35-14:05	56 RHEE, S. When pointing is not enough: On the emergence of honorific forms of personal pronouns in Korean	ZEIGE, L.E. Language change and social systems	VISCONTI, J. Sentential negation in the history of Italian	SCHULTE, K. On the position of overt subjects in infinitival clauses in Spanish and Portuguese: Pragmatic, semantic and frequency-based motivations	SIDWELL, P. Austroasiatic branching: New computational approaches and results	NIKITINA, T. Categorial reanalysis and argument realization: Mande languages and beyond	MOLOCHIEVA, Z. The diachronic development of the tense-aspect-mood system in Chechen
14:05-14:35	57 YAP, F.H., WANG, J. & LAM, C.T. From pronominal to connective to pragmatic: On the grammaticalization of Classical	GIPPER, S. Interaction as a driving force of semantic change: The case of the Yurakaré inferential evidential	VOSSSEN, F. & VAN DER AUWERA, J. The Jespersen Cycle in South East Asia and Oceania	VEIGA, A. Old and new reflections on Proto-Ibero-Romance lenition	BOWERN, C. How many Tasmanian languages were there?	LOS, B. From noun to clause: De-nominalization triggered by morphological reanalysis	DISCUSSION The diachrony and paradigmatic organization of TMA in Papiamentu
							GENERAL SESSION Chair: Toyota, J.
14:35-15:05	58 DA MILANO, F. First person forms: A comparison between Indo-European and East-Asian languages (with a focus on Japanese)	HENDERY, R. The co-construction of a new dialect: A case study in usage-based language change	VAN GELDEREN, E. Cycles of negation in Athabaskan	O'NEILL, P. The effects of fyod on the verb in Ibero-Romance and autonomous morphological structures	SYRJÄNEN, K., HONKOLA, T., KORHONEN, K., LEHTINEN, J., VESAKOSKI, O. & WAHLBERG, N. Shedding light on the classification of Uralic languages with computational phylogenetic methods	JOHNS, A. Morpheme migration	GIL, D. Obligatory vs. optional tense-aspect-mood marking
<25>	Coffee Break (Auditorium Lobby)

		WORKSHOP 9 Person Forms across Time and Space (Cont.)	WORKSHOP 4 Usage-Based Approaches (Cont.)	WORKSHOP 8 The Diachrony of Negation (Cont.)	WORKSHOP 20 Ibero-Romance Historical Linguistics (Cont.)	WORKSHOP 12 Computational Historical Linguistics (Cont.)	WORKSHOP 6 The Nominalization Cycle (Cont.)	GENERAL SESSION Chair: Seifart, F.
15:30-16:00	59		ISHIYAMA, O. The role of speaker innovation in grammaticalization and language change	PINEDA-BERNUY, E. The development of embracing negation in Quechua	GONZÁLEZ MANZANO, M. On the relation between epistemic modality and intensifying adverbs: Realmente, verdaderamente and ciertamente	DUNN, M. Typological dependencies in an evolutionary framework: Word-order universals in four lineages	GILDEA, S. From participant nominalization to main clause verb: Creating focus constructions	YAMAGUCHI K. A typological and diachronic study of causality expressed by adpositions in the languages of the world
16:00-16:30	60	SHIBASAKI R. On the rise and demise of second person forms in Japanese: A diachronic-typological perspective	DISCUSSION	WILLIS, D. Cyclic change in the distribution of indefinites in negative polarity environments	ESTELLÉS-ARGUEDAS, M. Digressive discourse markers in Spanish: History, grammaticalization and the importance of paradigms	JORDAN, F. Testing language-culture co-evolution in enumeration	WHITMAN, J. Nominalization height and syntactic change
<5>
					GENERAL SESSION Romance Languages Chair: Dufresne, M.		GENERAL SESSION Chair: Kataoka, K.	WORKSHOP 18 Genealogical and Areal Linguistic Relations in the Kalahari Basin
16:35-17:05	61	DANIELS, D. I'm you and you're her: From first to second and second to third person in New Guinea	DISCUSSION	YANG, H.-L. Southern Min negative infixes: A historical perspective	BECH, K. Left periphery discourse structures in Old and Middle English versus Old and Middle French	VERKERK, A. Alice and evolution: A diachronic analysis of motion events using a parallel corpus	YAMAGUCHI, T. Semantic change of mae 'front' and collective social awareness	PAKENDORF, B. Genes and languages in southern Africa: A molecular anthropological perspective on the Kalahari Basin Area
17:05-17:35	62				WILSON, C. Variation and attestation in text types: Old Occitan outside the troubadours	KOLACHINA, S. & KASICHEYANULA T.R. Revisiting unchanged cognates as a criterion in linguistic subgrouping		BODEN, G. & JORDAN, F. Kalahari Basin Area kin terminologies in historic perspective: A preliminary computational approach
18:00	Conference Dinner at Geihinkan 'The Royal Guest House' (Place will open at 17:30, dinner starts at 18:00) About 10 minutes walk from the Service Entrance of Minpaku; please contact the ICHL20 Information Counter if you need transportation assistance to get there.							Shuttle Bus Services Leaving the Conference Venue at: 5:50 p.m., 6:25 p.m.
Shuttle Bus Services Leaving the Conference Dinner Venue (Geihinkan) at: 8:15 p.m., 8:50 p.m.

Friday, July 29

Shuttle Bus Services Leaving Hankyū Expo Park Hotel at: 7:30 a.m., 8:05 a.m. Leaving Senri Hankyū Hotel at: 7:30 a.m., 8:05 a.m.
	Seminar Room 1	Seminar Room 2	Seminar Room 3	Seminar Room 4	Seminar Room 5	Seminar Room 6	Seminar Room 7
8:30-9:30	Plenary Address (Auditorium) Bjarke FRELLESVIG (Oxford University, UK) Corpus Based Studies in Japanese Historical Syntax Chair: MATSUMORI Akiko
<10>
	GENERAL SESSION Persian/Greek Chair: Ahmadkhan, M.R.	WORKSHOP 16 Advances in Ryukyuan Historical Linguistics	GENERAL SESSION Sinitic Languages (Cont.) Chair: Yap, F-H.	WORKSHOP 20 Ibero-Romance Historical Linguistics (Cont.)	WORKSHOP 3 The Rule of Autonomous Morphology in Language Change	GENERAL SESSION Languages in the Pacific Chair: Lichtenberk, F.	WORKSHOP 18 Genealogical and Areal Linguistic Relations in the Kalahari Basin (Cont.)
9:40-10:10	71 ALIZADEH LEMJIRI, S., TISCHLER, J. & ESLAMI, M. Historical development of derivational morphemes in Persian	MATSUMORI, A. The accentual system of the Tokunoshima Okazen dialect in which accent is uniquely marked with vowel duration	LIEN, C. Verbs of 'saying' on the move in Southern Min	DWORKIN, S.N. Loanwords in Spanish and contact-induced language change	MAIDEN, M. Why morphemes persist: The Romanian 'past participle'	SUHARDIYANTO, T. & KIYOKI, Y. An integrated semantic distance computational method for constructing language inheritance relationships: A case of Austronesian phylogeny	ONO, H. Sharing an anomalous pattern across a linguistic boundary: The kinship categorization of Glui, Gjjana, Tshila and =Hoan
10:10-10:40	72 KIRK, A. Relatives and correlatives in Greek	IGARASHI, Y., TAKUBO, Y., PELLARD, T. & HAYASHI, Y. The three-tone system of Ikema Ryukyuan and its implications for historical studies	HUANG, C.S. Grammaticalization of distal deixis hit-lo7 in Taiwanese Southern Min	MOYNA, M.I. The history of concatenative compounds in Spanish	O'NEILL, P. Differences between morphemic and morphemic structure	PALMER, B. & EVANS, B. Metatypic change in Mono-Uruavan	BODEN, G. Salvage documentation of Tuu kin terminologies and their relevance for historic reconstruction
<25>	Coffee Break (Auditorium Lobby)
11:05-11:35	73 CHATZIKYRIAKIDIS, S. The historical development of the clitic systems of three dialects of Modern Greek	SHIBATANI, M. Ryukyuan nominalization: Diachrony in a cross-dialectal perspective	HU, C.-Y. A diachronic investigation of the grammaticalization of hoo7 in Southern Min	UEDA, H. Lexical variation in medieval Spanish. Applying quantitative methods to Hispanic biblical texts	ESHER, L. Future in the past, conditional and (semi)autonomous morphology in Occitan	CHENG, C.-H. The origin, development and tribal migration of Paiwan Tjariljik-Pacavalj dialects	GÜLDEMANN, T. The Lower Nossob varieties of Tuu: !Uj, Taa or neither?
	GENERAL SESSION Slavic Languages Chair: Reinhart
11:35-12:05	74 BRATISHENKO, E. Proper names at the forefront of change in the history of Russian	NIINAGA, Y. From converb to case clitic, an example from Yuwan Ryukyuan	CHEN, I.-H. Subjectivity encoding in Taiwanese Southern Min.	CLOSING COMMENTS	REINTGES, C. Endogenous morphological change: The evolution of the Ancient Egyptian stative	ROBINSON, L. The development of religious dialects of Blagar	NAUMANN, C. A preliminary classification of Taa dialects
		GENERAL SESSION Japanese Languages Chair: Unger, J.M.		GENERAL SESSION Romance Languages Chair: Salvesen, C.M.
12:05-12:35	75 SCHAARSCHMIDT, G. Doukhorbor internal and external migrations: Effects on language development and structure	KUPCHIK, J. What is really Eastern Old Japanese?	CHEN, Y.-L. Southern Min 'give' in an areal perspective	ASKI, J. & RUSSI, C. The pragmatics of proclitic and enclitic double object clusters in Medieval Florentine	BAERMAN, M. The diachrony of inflection class interactions	ROBERTS, S. Variation and change in the determiner system of Pidgin Hawaiian	LIONNET, F. Juu demonstrative and relative constructions in a diachronic perspective
<60>	Lunch Break (Lunch Area A: Regular meals only, Lunch Area B: Regular and special meals)
13:35-14:20	Business Meeting (Auditorium)
<10>

		GENERAL SESSION Slavic Languages (Cont.) Chair: Andersen, H.	GENERAL SESSION Japanese Languages (Cont.) Chair: Unger, J.M.		GENERAL SESSION Romance Languages (Cont.) Chair: Salvesen, C.M.	WORKSHOP 3 The Rule of Autonomous Morphology in Language Change (Cont.)	WORKSHOP 17 Etymology and Reconstruction in the Languages of Australia and the Pacific	WORKSHOP 18 Genealogical and Areal Linguistic Relations in the Kalahari Basin (Cont.)
14:30-15:00	76	REINHART, J. Historical (im-)politeness: The Medieval Slavic evidence	UWANO, Z. Accent shift in Japanese and Korean	CHANG, C.-C. Grammaticalization and lexical diffusion of bo5 in Southern Min	DUFRESNE, M. & DUPUIS, F. Telicity and unaccusative constructions in Medieval French	BONAMI, O., HENRI, F. & LUÍS, A.R. The emergence of morphomic structure in Romance-based creoles	MAILHAMMER, R. Foundation work in comparative Iwaidjan linguistics: Sound correspondences and historical morphology	GERLACH, L. & BERTHOLD, F. Spatial terms on Hoan
15:00-15:30	77	IVANISHVILI, M. Proto-Kartvelian plant-names: 'Oak'	KUBOZONO, H. Accent changes in the past and present	TAKAHASHI, M. The Japanese adverb kesshite : Its origin in warfare	DEXTER, A. French cliticization of nominative pronouns as a product of diminished Latin verbal inflection	SHIMADA, M. & NAGANO, A. Development of kanji pronunciations in Japanese and its analysis based on a lexeme-based morphology	KOCH, H. Kin terms and the classification of Pama-Nyungan languages	SANDS, B. & HONKEN, H. Hoan body part terminology in comparative perspective
<25>	Coffee Break (Auditorium Lobby)
			GENERAL SESSION Japanese Languages (Cont.) Chair: Kupchik, J.	GENERAL SESSION Germanic Languages Chair: Shibatani, M.	GENERAL SESSION Romance Languages (Cont.) Chair: Winters, M.
15:55-16:25	78	ECKHOFF, H.M. Animacy and differential object marking in Old Church Slavonic	HIRAKO, T. Philological evidence on the historical status of falling tones in earlier Japanese	ITÔ, T. Old Norse idiomatic phrases incorporated into the English language	HERTZENBERG, M.J. On the development of Latin ille and ipse into definite articles and personal pronouns	SMITH, J.C. Morphomehood as a cline	LIAO, H.-C. On the reconstruction of Proto-Malayo-Polynesian *si- 'simultaneous/ concomitant'	ELDERKIN, E.D. Inherited and borrowed lexis in Khoe
		GENERAL SESSION Chair: Ostapirat, W.
16:25-16:55	79	POUNDER, A. From innovation to diffusion to change: Getting off the ground under the prescriptive norm	SHIMOTANI, M., KOBAYASHI, M. & SAKAKIBARA, Y. A usage-based analysis of the suffix -gachi in Japanese discourse	PIERCE, M., BOAS, H.C., ROESCH, K. & DUX, R. The history of front rounded vowels in New Braunfels German		ANDERSEN, H. Morphological opacity: The speakers' approach	MIGLIO, V. Spanish loanwords in Chamorro	NAKAGAWA, H. Genetic affiliations of ≠Haba and Tshila
<5>
17:00-17:35	80	MATSUKAWA, K. Historical sound changes in Itunyoso Triqui	TOYOTA, J. Early Japanese as a language with active alignment: Evidence from grammatical voice	PARRA-GUINALDO, V. The grammaticalization of lest : An alternative view to the polyfunctionality approach	SALVESEN, C.M. Pronominal reorganisation in Old and Middle French	CONCLUDING DISCUSSION	DISCUSSION Priorities for future research in Australian, Austronesian and Papuan comparative linguistics	HAACKE, W. The occurrence of incorporation in Khoe languages: Convergence or divergence?
17:35-18:05	81	PITTAYAPORN, P. Tracing tonal history: Comparative reconstruction of tonal systems	ASAHI, Y. Linguistic outcomes of similar dialect contact situations in three Japanese speaking communities	SHINDO, M. (26-27 x) A cross-linguistic study of constructionalization of adjectives in English and Japanese		CONCLUDING DISCUSSION	DISCUSSION Priorities for future research in Australian, Austronesian and Papuan comparative linguistics	RAPOLD, C. A Tuu substrate in Khoe? - the case of compound verbs
Shuttle Bus Services Leaving the Conference Venue at: 6:20 p.m., 6:55 p.m.

Saturday, July 30

		Shuttle Bus Services Leaving Hankyū Expo Park Hotel at: 8:30 a.m. Leaving Senri Hankyū Hotel at: 8:30 a.m.
		Auditorium
		International Symposium: Historical Linguistics in the Asia-Pacific Region and the Position of Japanese Hosted by the National Museum of Ethnology, Japan and The Mainichi Daily Newspaper Supported by the Commemorative Organization for the Japan World Exposition ('70)
9:00-9:05		Welcome SASAKI Shirō (Deputy Director-General, National Museum of Ethnology)
9:05-9:25		An Outsider's View of Japanese Comparative Linguistics: Past, Present and Future KIKUSAWA Ritsuko (National Museum of Ethnology)
		Session 1: Historical Linguistics in the Asia-Pacific Region
9:30-10:10	101	Sino-Tibetan-Austronesian: Making Sense of Non-final Syllables Laurent SAGART (École des Hautes Etudes en Sciences Sociales)
10:10-10:50	102	Linguistic Interaction in South China: The Case of Chinese, Tai and Miao-Yao Weera OSTAPIRAT (Mahidol University and Academia Sinica)
<15>		Break
		Session 2: Identifying the Position of Japanese
11:05-11:45	103	Why Japonic Is Not Demonstrably Related to 'Altaic' or Korean Alexander VOVIN (University of Hawai'i)
11:45-12:25	104	No Rush to Judgment: The Case against Japanese as an Isolate J. Marshall UNGER (Ohio State University)
<60>		Lunch Break (Lunch is provided for ICHL participants. Pick up a "Saturday lunch ticket" by noon, July 28, Thursday.)
13:25-14:05	105	Japanese and the Transeurasian Languages Martine ROBBEETS (University of Leuven and University of Mainz)
14:05-14:45	106	Work on the Genetic Relation of Japanese and Korean John WHITMAN (Cornell University and National Institute for Japanese Language and Linguistics)
<15>		Break
15:00-15:40	107	The Historical Position of the Ryukyuan Languages Thomas PELLARD (Kyoto University)
		Session 3: Evaluation and Discussion
15:45-16:25	108	Comments on the Presentations in Sessions 1 and 2 Lyle CAMPBELL (University of Hawai'i)
<15>		Break
16:40-17:50	109	Discussion (Chair: Lawrence A. REID). Selected questions from the floor Campbell, Kikusawa, Ostapirat, Pellard, Robbeets, Sagart, Unger, Vovin, Whitman
17:50-18:00	110	Concluding Remarks KAGEYAMA Tarō (Director, National Institute for Japanese Language and Linguistics; President, The Japanese Society for Linguistics)
		Shuttle Bus Services Leaving the Conference Venue at: 6:30 p.m.