

International Symposium

Report on the Results of the Project: Anthropology of Caring and Education for Life, part of the Core Research Project: Anthropological Studies of Inclusion and Autonomy in the Human World

International Symposium

New Reproductive Technology and

Social Relationships in Asia: Birth, Kinship, and Gender

Date: September 8 (Thursday), 2011 13:00-18:30 (OPEN 12:30)

Venue: National Museum of Ethnology, seminar room six

Organizer: National Museum of Ethnology, Japan

Co-organizer: Centre Population et Développement [CEPED], France

PROGRAM

13:00	—	13:05	Opening Remarks	Suzuki, Nanami
13:05	—	13:10	Welcome Remarks	Sudo, Ken'ichi
13:10	—	13:30	Introductory Remarks to the Symposium	Suzuki, Nanami
13:30	—	14:30	Keynote Lecture	Guilmoto, Christophe Z. L'Université Paris Descartes[UPD]/ Centre Population et Développement [CEPED] The anthropological aspects of gender discrimination and sex selection in Vietnam
14:30	—	14:40	Intermission
14:40	—	15:10	Presentation	Chang, Chiungfang The University of Tokyo Politics of Reproductive Technology in Taiwan
15:10	—	15:40	Presentation	Hong, Hyunsoo The University of Tokyo Reproductive Technologies in South Korea
15:40		15:50	Intermission
15:50	—	16:20	Presentation	Yamaji, Kumiko Kwansei University Daughter preference and Social Transition in Japan and South Korea
16:20	—	16:50	Presentation	Uesugi, Tomiyuki Seijo University Kinship and Gender in Action: Multiple Child-Parent Relationships in the Age of New Reproductive Technologies
16:50	—	18:20	General Discussion	Comment: Taniguchi, Yoko Senshu University Comment: Sawayama, Mikako Okayama University
18:20	—	18:30	Closing Remarks	Suzuki, Nanami